

11 June – 4 September 2005

Public programme

All events are located in the New Gallery, Khartoum Place and are free with purchase of exhibition ticket

Saturday 11 & Sunday 12 June – all day

IN DEMONSTRATION

Phil Belcher

Tutor of Traditional Tool Technology, Department Maori Studies at E I T, Hawkes Bay, Phil Belcher and his students demonstrate the working of pounamu to make hei tiki and peka peka.

Sunday 12 June 1pm

CURATORS' INSIGHT A Tiki Tour

Ngahiraka Mason & Jane Davidson

Curators Ngahiraka Mason and Jane Davidson take us on a tiki tour of their intriguing new exhibition.

Sunday 26 June 3pm

COLLECTORS' INSIGHT

Judy Darragh and John Perry

Judy Darragh and John Perry and have been collecting hei tiki for years and have amassed a comprehensive collection of this iconic form that has come to symbolise a culture and country.

In addition to the works in the exhibition on loan from them they will bring in other examples from their collections.

Saturday 2 & Sunday 3 July – all day

IN DEMONSTRATION

Phil Belcher

Tutor of Traditional Tool Technology, Department Maori Studies at E I T, Hawkes Bay, Phil Belcher and his students demonstrate the working of pounamu to make hei tiki and peka peka.

Sunday 17 July 3pm

COLLECTORS' INSIGHT

Paul Hartigan & Rose Evans

Auckland based artist Paul Hartigan and former objects conservator at Te Papa, Rose Evans are both avid collectors of hei tiki and for very different reasons. Join them in the exhibition as they discuss why the fascination with hei tiki.

Sunday 24 July 1pm
DESIGNER'S INSIGHT

Jenny Walker – Tiki Dress

New Zealand Fashion Designer Jenny Walker will discuss her award-winning 'Tiki Dress' which was also worn by Keisha Castle-Hughes to the 2004 Independent Spirit Awards as a precursor event to the Oscar Awards.

Sunday 24 July 2pm
SUNDAY KIDS HIGHLIGHT

Today we will look at the maori design used Hei Tiki. Afterwards we create our own onto t-shirts.

Come early this week to the 1pm Designers' Insight with Jenny Walker.

Cost $4 - Bookings advised on 307 4540

Sunday 7 August 1pm
IN CONTEXT

Anna Marie White Tiki goes to town

Former Social History curator, and Taonga Maori curator at Puke Ariki, New Plymouth, Anna Marie White discusses how tiki were removed from their customary context with explicit reference to ancestors and how the process of colonisation has affected the visual representation of tiki.

Sunday 21 August 2pm
SUNDAY KIDS

Hei Tiki can come in so many different materials and shapes - short, tall, bright, plastic and of course pounamu. Inspired by this landmark exhibition we make a hei tiki for someone very special.

Cost $4 - Bookings advised on 307 4540

Discount parking - \$4 all day weekends and public holidays

Victoria Street car park, cnr Victoria & Kitchener Sts

Park then pick up your discount voucher from Gallery Information Desks

